THE FINANCIAL TIMES 2017

Rotman's Executive Leadership Program is a highly personalized leadership development program designed to turn you into a more effective, thoughtful and resilient leader. Tailored to your unique leadership goals and challenges, this fast-paced, demanding and powerful program integrates cutting-edge academic research with real-time leadership issues. You will emerge with a fresh approach to leadership and decision-making that characterizes all great leaders.

Location:

Rotman School of Management, Toronto, Ontario, Canada

Program Fee:

$11,200 CAD + HST

The program fee includes tuition, all program materials and leaders' toolkit, meals, program reception and networking dinner, two one-hour post-program executive coaching sessions, 360° assessment and debriefs, a webinar, a half-day follow-up session, a short 360° follow up assessment and a personal advisor.

The fee does not include travel or accommodation.

Program Overview

This eight-month leadership journey includes a five-day in-class intensive, an implementation webinar, a 360° leadership assessment, two one-on-one executive coaching sessions, a short 360° follow up assessment, membership in a personal advisory board and a half-day wrap-up session and graduation.

During the in-class intensive, each day begins with a focus on mindful leadership, enhancing your resilience, compassion and creativity in your leadership role.

Throughout the program you will craft your own leadership development agenda, which will feed into your personal development plan. Upon completion of the program you will have a deeper understanding of what it takes to lead effectively, as well as an action plan for being a more effective leader.

"When effective leadership happens, it happens at all levels. It reaches the head with a clear sense of direction, a compelling vision, a purpose that gives meaning to work. But it also reaches the heart, to the essence of who we are as humans, with a set of values that make us feel that our work contributes to making us a better person."

Leadership at Rotman

We believe that short, intensive programs can deliver skills and present new theories. However, Rotman's Executive Leadership Program is doing something even more complex. We are changing the way people think about and engage in the act of leadership. It takes time to reflect and consider how you perceive the world, how you make assumptions about management and leadership and how you consider alternatives to practise them. Rotman provides leaders with a new way to think about these concepts.

Key Takeaways

This program is different from typical leadership programs. It is not a reiteration of current best practices. It is about personal leadership development. Our program focuses on helping you develop the capabilities required to respond effectively to the challenges of leading in our turbulent times. We place an unparalleled emphasis on strengthening leadership capabilities before, during and after the in-class intensive.

As a result of this program you will

- Think differently about leadership challenges and responsibilities
- Develop a more conscious and intentional manner of leading
- Realize a critical synthesis of management, leadership and engagement
- Integrate self-awareness and personal power
- Cultivate a high-performance work culture through strategy, structures and systems
- Benefit from coaching sessions with highly accredited and experienced leadership coaches

Key Faculty and Business Leaders

Throughout the program you will be challenged by top-calibre, world-renowned faculty and will engage in lively debate with fellow leaders. Industry practitioners will co-lead selected sessions to provide strategic relevance for and application to real leadership issues.

Who Should Attend?

Rotman's Executive Leadership Program is designed for mid- to senior-level managers of people or teams looking for insights, knowledge and tools to become more effective leaders and advance themselves in their leadership journey. Applicants should have a minimum of 10 years' work experience and a team of direct reports.

Participants will come from a broad range of industries, including the corporate, government and non-profit sectors.

NEW: The short 360° follow up assessment is intended to provide participants with additional feedback on the progress made on their Individual Development Plan (IDP). The raters of the first 360° exercise will be asked to complete a five minute survey giving feedback specific to the two or three developmental goals or capabilities that participants would have been working on following the ELP experience. Participants will then be given a one page report and an additional debriefing session with their coach. This value added exercise is a measured way of assessing behaviour changes, identifying progress and enhancing personal development.
