Birth of my son while earning my degree

Offered over 32 months, the Morning and Evening MBA programs allow you to maintain your work schedule and earn your degree on a part-time basis. Our unique approach to decision making, model-based problem solving and self-development will transform your career potential.

MBA Pre-Program

Beginning in late July and throughout the month of August, get yourself into the academic mindset with optional preparatory courses in Business Mathematics, Statistics, Finance and Accounting.

A mandatory overnight Orientation in mid-August sets the foundation for your academic experience. The interactive two-day event lets you focus on what you hope to achieve at Rotman, get to know your classmates and successfully launch your new working group.

The Program

The program begins with an intensive week in August after Orientation, offering the following courses: Business Problem Solving: A Model-Based Approach, and Managerial Negotiations. Regular Morning and Evening MBA classes begin in September.

Optional professional development workshops on topics such as financial modelling, communication and presentation skills are offered throughout the year.

Intensive Weeks

You will be required to take time off work to complete three intensive weeks over the course of the 32 month program.

Year One: Foundations

Beginning in August, the first year is focused on helping you to build a core MBA toolkit in the major functional areas.

Year Two and Three: Specializations

The second half of your Rotman MBA is all about choice. You may specialize or enhance your generalist perspective by taking courses from different academic disciplines.

Electives

More than 90 elective courses allow you to customize your MBA experience. While some electives take place during regular working hours, many of the most popular are offered in the morning and evening.

The first half of each program consists of a core curriculum that introduces you to the fundamentals of business. The second half is about choice. You can specialize by selecting from a wide range of electives. See page 24 for a detailed outline of the Morning and Evening MBA program curriculum.

“The program was a clear choice for me. It allowed me to directly apply my new skills on the job, and gave me an edge over my peers.”

— Michel Proulx, MBA '13, Associate Director, Business Strategy and Planning, Bell Canada

“Since I work downtown on Bay Street, Rotman’s central location is ideal. I can go to class and learn valuable insights before heading to the office.”

— Dallas Gray, MBA '13, Associate, Sales and Trading, TD Securities

Go beyond the classroom to expand your network, build your skills, or even start a business through the many opportunities and resources available to you as an MBA student at Rotman. Getting involved is the best way to engage with the Rotman community and to broaden your impact as a future leader.

Student clubs

Industry clubs play a key role in your career exploration and success, and social and cultural clubs allow you to build a network and explore your interests outside of class. Led and organized by Rotman students themselves, the clubs run a rich calendar of social and networking events, case competitions and guest speakers.

Case Competitions

Each year, Rotman students travel around the world to take part in case competitions, ranging from international trading, corporate social responsibility, tech strategy and projects in the Middle East, to mining and natural resources and business design. Case competitions allow you to showcase your talent to top industry experts, test out your business knowledge and sharpen your team-building skills.

Hult Prize

There are so many opportunities at Rotman. A team of Morning and Evening MBA students (pictured below) won the regional final for the Hult Prize in Dubai, advancing to the Global Final to be held at the Clinton Global Initiative Annual Meeting in New York City in September 2015. The $1 M prize makes it the world's largest student competition prize. Participants were challenged to build sustainable and scalable social enterprises to address gaps in early childhood education. Team Attollo, made up of Peter Cinat, MBA '14, Aisha Bukhari, MBA '15, James Austin, MBA '15 and Lak Chinta, MBA '15, came up with the 'talking stickers' concept to help improve children's vocabulary and language skills.
